LOCUST WALK PARTNERS, LLC ANNOUNCES GEOFF MEYERSON NAMED AS ONE OF THE PHILADELPHIA BUSINESS JOURNAL'S "40 UNDER 40"

Boston and Philadelphia, May 25, 2010—Locust Walk Partners (LWP), a business development advisory firm that offers transaction, strategic, and commercial support to life science companies, is pleased to announce that its Managing Director and Co-Founder, Geoff Meyerson, has been named one of Philadelphia Business Journal's "40 Under 40."

Each year, the Philadelphia Business Journal recognizes 40 people under the age of 40 who are dynamic leaders with a proven track record in their respective industries and communities, and who have made greater Philadelphia a better place to live and do business.

"I am thrilled to receive this award," says Meyerson. "It is an honor to be recognized as one of the area's business leaders." Jay Mohr, Locust Walk Partners Managing Director and Co-Founder, added, "We are proud of the role Geoff plays in the life science community and are delighted to see his significant achievements acknowledged."

Meyerson came to Philadelphia six years ago to pursue an MBA in Health Care Management at The Wharton School and a Master of Biotechnology from the University of Pennsylvania, after having worked as an investment banker in the global healthcare group at UBS. He has worked in business development at MedImmune, in venture capital at SR One, and in business development at a venture capital-backed biotech company. His professional experience includes the successful completion of numerous high-value transactions from all sides of the table.

In 2006, Meyerson and others created The BioBreak Organization (www.biobreak.org), a social networking non-profit for professionals in the life science industry with locations in Philadelphia and New Jersey.

Meyerson and Mohr co-founded LWP in late 2008. LWP currently employs five professionals and is working with a variety of clients to execute critical corporate partnerships and transaction initiatives. In addition, Meyerson is the Founder and CEO of Evolved Capital (www.evolvedcapital.com), which is developing a web-based tool to streamline venture capital and business development deal processes and analytics.
